

Universitätsklinikum Erlangen, with its 42 departments and seven institutes, encompasses all fields of medicine.

The latest scientific knowledge in medical research as well as the most modern equipment is used in diagnosis and therapy. Education and training, research and patient care are all linked together at the highest level.

The university hospital is situated in the city centre which is extremely convenient for patients and visitors. Not far away from the university hospital one can find the vibrant pedestrian zone with lots of small shops and comfortable pubs. The hospital's buildings lie mainly on the garden of the margrave's palace and accommodate more than 1,350 beds.
